FAQ

- 1. Do I need to make an appointment to come speak with you during office hours?
 No. Office hours are drop-in, so just go ahead and stop by. You're welcome to email to let me know when you plan on coming by, if you'd like.
- 2. I didn't have time to do the readings for today. Should I still come to class?
 Absolutely. There's no penalty for failing to do the reading on time, and nothing at all to gain by opting out of our in-class discussions. Showing up and doing your best to follow along and take part is in everyone's best interests.
- 3. Why did I get a not-pass (X) on my PRR?
 Most likely because your submission ran afoul of some element of the criteria. Take another look at the "Personal Reading Response" section, above to confirm.
- 4. I didn't complete my PRR because (insert explanation). Can I still get credit for it?
 No. PRRs must be submitted to me at the end of class, or ahead of time. There are no exceptions. See the section on PRRs above for full details.
- 5. I'm having a hard time with the readings. Should I use the internet to help?
 I advise against it. A lot of what's online is trash, and since evaluation in this class will be tailored to our in-class activities, even good sources may be misleading. I recommend coming into office hours; I've got some strategies that can help.
- 6. I'm having a hard time with in-class discussion. What should I do?
 It depends on the nature of the difficulty. I recommend coming into office hours, and we will do our best to figure out a solution that works for you.
